++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning drier overnight with a few showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
A cloudy evening with outbreaks of rain lingering across Lancashire and Cumbria. The rain will slowly clear with all parts becoming dry for a time. A few showers will arrive late in the night, these mainly affecting the north. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
Early showers clearing, leaving a cloudy morning with only a few bright spells. Turning wet after midday as rain spreads from the south, although Cumbria may remain dry until dusk. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Changeable conditions through the next few days, with spells of heavy rain interspersed drier, brighter interludes. Strong winds on Wednesday and Thursday with a risk of coastal gales. Increasingly mild.
